

Abstract

The invention relates to a novel negative, aqueous photoresist composition comprising a polyvinylacetal polymer, a water-soluble photoactive compound and a crosslinking agent. The water-soluble photoactive compound is preferably a sulfonium salt. The invention also relates to forming a negative image from the novel photoresist composition.

[illegible]